Craftsmanship, Beauty & Performance

1. SUPERIOR CONSTRUCTION

5500 Bay & Bow windows feature insulated wood mullions and high tensile strength threaded steel rods for strength, insulation and condensation resistance.

2. ROOFING SYSTEM

Optional factory-assembled and precision-built plywood roofs are available with a standard pitch. They are completely assembled, ready for installation, and built to the exact specifications of the unit.

3. BUILT TO LAST

Rabbeted corner assembly of the bay and bow frame resists shear forces and helps maintain the squareness of the unit, providing better long-term performance compared to butt joint corners.

4. DIMENSIONAL BEAUTY

An expansive window seat provides a place to decorate or add pillows for additional seating. On the exterior, bay and bow windows add unique architectural dimension to a home.

Achieve a finished appearance with optional decorative edge banding and colonial casing in 2-1/4", 3-1/2" and 5" sizes, in either Red Oak or White Birch.

The Difference Between Bay Windows and Bow Windows.

BAY WINDOWS

6. THERMAL PERFORMANCE

The insulated seatboard helps keep your home more comfortable while lowering energy costs.

7. CUSTOMIZABLE INTERIOR

Constructed using furniture grade 1-1/4" hardwood plywood, with Red Oak or White Birch veneers available.

8. WEATHERPROOF

An integrated, weeped sill pan helps protect against water infiltration.

Bay and Bow windows can be shipped with pre-installed windows for quick installation or without window installed with the chassis, allowing for on-site customization and easier handling during transport.
